16 during an individual's late teens and early twenties; and

18 adapting to new surroundings, schedules, activities and 19 responsibilities can lead to increased stress and anxiety among

3 to depression, substance abuse or other behaviors and conditions
4 that may raise the risk of suicide, attempted suicide or 5 suicidal thoughts among students; and

7 mental health counseling or services often deters students from 8 communicating their thoughts and feelings and seeking 9 professional help; and

11 suicide is the second leading cause of death among college-age 12 students accounting for approximately 1,100 deaths per year on 13 college campuses; and

15 Prevention Initiative, suicide is the third leading cause of 16 death for young people 15 to 24 years of age; and

17 WHEREAS, Available data suggest that suicide occurs at a rate 18 between 6.5 and 7.5 per 100,000 college students; and

19 WHEREAS, In 2011, the American College Health Association-
20 National College Health Assessment (ACHA-NCHA), a nationwide
21 assessment of college students at two-year and four-year
22 institutions, found that approximately 30% of students reported 23 being "so depressed that it was difficult to function" in the 24 prior year. That same 2011 survey found that approximately 6% of 25 college students reported seriously considering suicide and 1%
26 reported attempting suicide in the prior year; and

27 WHEREAS, Student suicide unfortunately has touched a number 28 of college and university campuses in this Commonwealth in the 29 last few years; and
